“WINDOWS INTO THE FUTURE” FUNDRAISER

██████████, Executive Director

Hello. I'm ██████████, executive director at ██████████ Pregnancy Center. Thank you for joining us here during our 'Windows into the Future' fundraising event. Why 'windows'? Are we speaking of a physical window? Or a symbolic one? Here's a hint: watch for a window in a few moments.

Last year, our 2020 Vision for Life was to bring medical services—especially early-pregnancy ultrasound—to ██████████. In just one year, by God's grace, we have made astonishing progress. And it couldn't have happened without friends like you!

We needed new medical personnel, and they're now onboard! In a moment you'll get to meet our new Medical Director and Nurse Manager. They will update you on our medical expansion.

But first, to open the window to provide medical services, we had to tear down a few walls! Here is ██████████ to tell you about a surprising discovery we made in the process.

██████████, Volunteer

Hi, I'm ██████████ and I am so grateful for all the people who worked with me, donating their time and materials, to completely renovate the offices of ██████████ Pregnancy Center. Together, we have created a fresh, professional space to serve women and families who face an unplanned pregnancy.

To these women, their pregnancy feels like a brick wall. They can't see a way forward.

We got a taste of that feeling during the remodeling project. We often ran into walls. We hit discouraging problems, surprising obstacles, and huge unknowns. Sometimes, we weren't sure there was a way forward. But somehow, God always made a way.

Early in the project, something happened that inspired us to keep going. We were tearing into a wall that stood between the old bathroom and the new ultrasound room. Between the studs of that wall, guess what we found? This window.

Moments before, there was just a wall. Now there was a window.

It was the perfect symbol for the importance of our work. We were helping open a window into the future for women who felt hopeless.

That's the hope ██████████ holds out to their clients: "There is always a window in your wall."

Thank you for helping open that window.

Thanks for all your hard work, [REDACTED].

Hi, I'm [REDACTED], proud to be the new Medical Director at [REDACTED] Pregnancy Center.

It's my job to see that [REDACTED] has legal, up-to-date protocols and procedures in place as we begin offering medical services.

And now, with the arrival of our new [REDACTED] ultrasound machine, we will begin providing limited obstetrical ultrasound, giving a mother a window through which to glimpse the child developing in her womb.

Obstetrics has always been my favorite part of family medicine. Now, by serving with [REDACTED], I get to link the complete obstetrical care provided by [REDACTED] with the early intervention and ongoing pregnancy support provided by [REDACTED] Pregnancy Center. Together, we can help more women see past the walls they face to a bright future with their children.

YOU helped make this possible. And with your help, we will keep that window open.

[REDACTED], RN, Nurse Manager

Hi, I am the Nurse Manager, [REDACTED].

It is thrilling that the beauty of ultrasound, an amazing window into a mother's womb, has arrived at our center. I remember the first time I had an ultrasound, and to our surprise, it revealed twins! Seeing two little hearts beating, and four arms waving, and four legs kicking, was one of the most moving experiences of my life to date. It was incredible to be able to see them in this way, when they were smaller than the palm of my hand! Truly two miracles, created by God.

To be able to open this window for women in our community, to introduce them to the life growing within them, is such a privilege. And as Dr. [REDACTED] said, this window, viewing the miracle of life, needs to remain open for the mothers and families of our community.

But what happens for families who never get to look through that open window?

Listen as [REDACTED] tells you his own story.

[REDACTED] Executive Director

My friend, none of us want to see a woman so desperate that she feels abortion is her only option for pregnancy.

Opening the window into her womb can help her begin seeking a way into the future for the child she is carrying.

With the support [REDACTED] Pregnancy Center offers, parents are finding that hope exists for their future. Hope they never dared to believe possible before. But it starts with a desire to preserve the life of their child.

Here's our board chairman, [REDACTED] to offer you a way to open windows for these families.

[REDACTED], Chairman, [REDACTED] Board of Directors

Thanks, [REDACTED].

For families in and around [REDACTED] who feel they're up against a wall, we can fling open windows of hope. Together, we can show them what life looks like in the womb—and what it can look like for them and their children going on into the future.

With all the changes [REDACTED] has undergone this year, we are grateful for reliable friends who have committed to supporting us on a regular basis. When you give regularly to [REDACTED], you give us freedom to budget confidently to serve our clients.

Probably the most meaningful way you can support the ministry of [REDACTED] Pregnancy Center is to commit to being a monthly donor.

To become a monthly donor, go online to [website donation page]—shown at the bottom of the screen. There you can fill in the online form to set up recurring donations. You are very welcome to call our office for help in completing those steps.

I hope you are already one of our reliable friends who gives regularly. If so, thank you! You're in good company. More than once this year, a donor like you has called asking to increase the size of their monthly gift. Maybe after viewing this event, you feel led the same direction. If so, contact our director, [REDACTED]. She'll help you quickly update your account.

Perhaps as we near year's end, you'd like to make a one-time gift to open a window for [REDACTED] clients. Your gift of any size is deeply appreciated. One-time gifts can also be made online.

On behalf of all of us at [REDACTED] Pregnancy Center, thank you for partnering with us to open Windows into the Future for the people in our community.
